Whenever I run a small amount of time while inside a flywheel it is extremely difficult to keep my position. How can I keep my position while inside a flywheel? A: Since there was no other answer, I will elaborate on PowerSpeed's answer. The easiest way to keep your position on the flywheel is to only use the front-left and front-right pads, which combine to make the forwards/backwards movement of the flywheel. Using one of these pads, and an even amount of pressure on each one, will keep you straight and on the ground. The specific key I found was to have a slight heel in your right foot and no heel in your left foot. This helped my right foot 3e33713323
