I am glad to say this new update is a live release. The update adds multiplayer and a fix for an issue where achievements were not showing up. I also added a new game mode and a few minor tweaks to the game itself. I have gone through the questions again and fixed up a few things that needed changing. You may have noticed the questions were more difficult before. I really like this new mode, because you can play through the questions in a much slower pace. The new mode is called "MOM Game". It's practically a "no op" mode. There are no rules other than time. You can play the questions as long as you like. Also, I have added a "catch up" mode. It's basically the mode where you go back and play through the questions from the beginning and see how long it took you to get them all. I may tweak the time limit to 15 minutes, but for now, it's there. You can try it for free before purchasing. I figure, you can do it on your phone or PC while you go to work or do something else. All the questions you played can be picked up in the achievements menu. You don't have to try the questions again, you can just pick up where you left off. If you find any new issues, please
