What's new in Power Of Love:

Disclaimer: My friends and I use creative writing techniques while secretly attempting to find God to make our novels relatable. We really do not have any definition for it, so the idea was pulled out of our collective imagination and the product that you are about to read is our level of understanding of bestowing pleasure to God and people is not all that we know at this point. Ultimately, we created "Powers of Love" in 10 days, came up with the script and wrote the full manuscript. While we have applied what we know today, we are flexible to script concepts. The headings are in bold fonts to make for easy identification. Mentor #1: Standing before the girls' school, there was a veiled woman, standing there wearing her brown dress. As my father walked out of the gate and looked at her, he said proudly, "There are the two best looking girls in the entire school." Mothers of the two girls were also busy and they got in quite a heated discussion. "How did I know she was doing this?" Mother one asked. "Were you there the whole time? Were you listening to my conversation?" "You were, but I told you I was having a meeting and I'll be back in an hour," Mother two said. "Oh that's interesting because I was telling Mother one and Mother three that you planned this from the beginning," Mother one took the chance to say, and continued, "You see, because if I'm talking to mother three, then that means you are just a messenger, and if I'm talking to mother one, I know that you know everything. I knew you were doing it and I offered many sacrifices for you, but it is important that we keep our intentions secret until the day of our children's marriage," So neither of them went in the meeting and told their employers about it. The meeting ended quite quickly for those mothers as they wished everything to be private for the weddings later that day. And it was because Mother two was filling Mother one in about the meeting. Father watched them go as he waited for his son waiting for the meeting, to end. He knows that his son will come back to him soon, for after all, he talked for a long time about how he felt today. Mentor #2
