The problem is: If the layout gets removed, the widget will be removed too. This causes a memory leak, because you have to store the widget's reference in order to be able to release it later. There is a patch in the old tracker: As a workaround you could store the widget in a weakpointer container and let a "Thelopper" take care of disposing the widget when it gets weakref'd out. Any idea how easy it is to just patch core clutter?Q: How can I change all the datepicker values to 11am? I saw on the documentation that the documentation recommended to use the events-boilerplate, but i was running into problems trying to integrate the solution with angular. Below is what i am trying to do. Can someone explain how to make the table the closest table element on the page with the class='data_table'? function () { $(document).ready(function () { $("#set").click(function () { $.ajax({ type: "POST", url: '/debtor/set', data: {debtor_id: $("#debtor").val()} }) .done(function (response) { // console.log(response); console.log("hi"); $.each($('.data_table'), function (i, element) { console.log("hey"); 6d1f23a050
