Solid waste is an integral part of human activities and it is inevitable that it will be generated. This study evaluated solid waste collection, disposal and management in Ogun State in the year 2002. The average daily production was evaluated from 20 out of 41 local government areas (LGAs). The solid waste disposal profile for Ogun State is skewed towards landfills which account for 89.3% of the total disposal from the 60 LGAs. Approximately, 70% of the solid waste was disposed in indiscriminate manner. Reasons for disposing solid waste in this manner are poorly regulated enforcement of existing policies, lack of effective management and financial constraints. Besides, low cost per ton generation is encouraging people to burn their waste. An analysis of the amount of waste generated, the cost of disposal, and the production of greenhouse gases showed that LGAs were not convinced that solid waste is an environmental and economic problem and were still unconcerned about solid waste. There is need for a broader study to focus on existing policies and regulations to improve their enforcement, collection methods, collection centres, and public education campaigns to raise awareness. There is also need for the private sector to participate in solid waste collection and management. The government will create a fund of up to 500 million euros to make sure that public administrations pay for the consequences of Brexit, Prime Minister Boris Johnson has confirmed. The
