EcoBulb (LifeTime) Activation Code Download [Mac/Win]

EcoBulb is a simple and straightforward application you can use to compare different light bulbs for energy saving. It gives you some general statistics about incandescent light bulbs, light emitting diodes (LEDs) and compact fluorescent lights (CFLs). Simple installation and interface The software product features a minimalistic window with a neatly structured layout. It's actually packed in a Modern UI and optimized for machines with touch support, such as tablets and notebooks, as long as they're running Windows 8, 8.1 or 10. Since it's trusted by Microsoft, it can be downloaded and installed from the Windows Store.

Compare stats about incandescent light bulbs, LEDs and CFLs The main window has white and green tones, where you can select the bulb type by clicking a dropdown list on the left to choose from incandescent light bulb, LED and CFL. Depending on your selection, the tool shows analysis details to let you know how much energy and money you save using a specific type of bulb, compared to the other two (including annual cost). Set the wattage, number of bulbs, and other aspects To tweak the analysis, you can change the wattage of the bulb, number of bulbs (from 1 to 50), daily average hours of usage (from 1 to 24), as well as electricity cost (number of dollars per kWh - kilowatt hour). The application doesn't have options for copying all this information to the Clipboard or saving it to file. However, you can take a snapshot and send the image to one of your Modern UI apps to save it in this way (like Microsoft OneNote). Simple energy and money saving calculator All things considered, EcoBulb offers a simple calculator for finding out how much energy and money you would save by using incandescent light bulbs, LEDs or CFLs.

Unfortunately, it implement support for just one currency (dollar). EcoBulb Key Features:

- Make a comparison between light bulbs of different types and their cost and energy consumption.
- EcoBulb displays an analysis of the different light bulbs for you to pick and choose which one is the best for your needs. • Save time by comparing lights with just a few clicks. • EcoBulb can save the results of your comparison to file and share it with anyone. • The application saves data in JSON format. • EcoBulb is compatible with Windows 8, 8.1 and 10. • EcoBul

What's New In EcoBulb?

The New York Times's environmental reporter claims that she's already found the perfect replacement for the traditional incandescent bulb. It's a mercury-free light bulb that's powered by electricity, though it does release a bit of energy in the form of light. Read more about the new bulbs at LiveScience. You need to be a registered member to be able to leave a comment.
