Among the many tools that we use to do everything in life, such as smartphones, work, communications and so on, we have become used to sending all our data in one form or another. But we are not necessarily using the same approach for each of the tools. For example, we often send all our data in text messages, which are short texts that are easier to send and receive. Likewise, we send the file in question to our mobile devices to store it, and we send it by email to share it with others. Yet there is another tool that we have at our disposal to collect information. This tool is software and it's called a keylogger. It is a program that records all the keys that you press on your keyboard and saves them on your computer for a certain period of time. It is a very useful tool for people that want to gather information without leaving a trace on the screen that can be used to identify the source. The use of software like this has become more common in the last few years. Many people use it on a daily basis to gather information that is important for them to understand, such as: -- Identification data -- Traffic data -- The history of contacts -- Banks -- E-commerce -- Social media and other things The main advantage of using a keylogger 2edc1e01e8
